Some important practical information for the hands-on online data entry

- Bring your own laptop
- Please can all participants bring with them some literature or data about Compositae, especially literature after 2013, so new species can be added. This can include a list of new (and/or old) taxa and may include information on synonymy, type material, distributions, diagnoses that can be added to the database. Training will be provided in how to carry out additions of new information and editing/updating of problematic data.
